Washington Blvd.
This boulevard runs along the northern edge of Culver City, from the McManus neighborhood through to Culver West.

Jefferson Blvd. north of Raintree Circle
This boulevard runs parallel to the Ballona Creek and connects to the Hayden Tract.

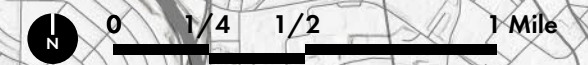

Sepulveda Blvd. south of Ballona Creek
This boulevard directly connects southern Culver City neighborhoods of Sunkist Park and Fox Hills to Ballona Creek.

Citywide Parks Plan

The Culver City Parks Plan is a strategic guide for the development and management of the city's parks, recreational facilities and programs, and is aimed at enhancing community health and quality of life. In 2024, Culver City Parks, Recreation and Community Services (PRCS) began the development of a new Parks Plan which examines the current and future needs of the city's recreational infrastructure, considering varied perceptions and uses of park space.

With your input, the Culver City Parks Plan aims to:

- Create a plan that will successfully serve the community for at least 15 years.
- Engage a wide range of key groups and community members in Culver City.
- Formulate a recommendation for Culver City Parks updates that are most necessary to meet the community's priorities.
