Sample Forced Ranking Sheet

In this example, there are five applicants (A, B, C, D, E). The reviewer reads Application A first, at which point it is ranked 1. The reviewer next reads Application B, which it finds stronger than Application A. Application B is ranked 1 and Application A is now ranked 2. The reviewer now reads Application C. Applications A and B are both stronger than Application C, so the reviewer ranks it 3. The method continues as described until all five applications are read, and applicants are ranked as follows, from best to worse: D, E, B, A, C.

Ranking	Round	Round 2	Round 3	Round 4	Round 5

Step 1(b) Scoring Methodology

During Step 1(b) of the storefront retail cannabis business permit application process, a five (5) person review committee (comprised of City staff) selected by the City Manager will review each application, watch a public presentation conducted by each applicant, conduct an in-person interview with representatives from each applicant, review a report of interviews with local officials in jurisdictions where the applicant has previously operated a business, and, where feasible, a report from a site visit existing business operated by the applicant.

At least two of the three largest individual equity holders of the applicant as well as the highest level manager responsible for day-to-day operations at the proposed Culver City location must be present and actively participate at the panel interview.
