Item A-2

PRCSC - (1) Approval of the Updated Rental Procedures and Guiding Principles for Pool Lane Allocation (the Guidelines); and, (2) Consideration of a Recommendation to the City Council to Adopt the Guidelines for Municipal Plunge User Groups

Chair Zeidman introduced the item.

Corey Lakin, Parks, Recreation and Community Services Director, provided a summary of the material of record; discussed increased use of facilities; work by staff to put the guidelines together; circulation of the draft guidelines for public comment; outreach; comments received; the community meeting; incorporation of public comment; consistency; and streamlining processes.

Chair Zeidman invited public comment regarding the staff report.

The following members of the audience addressed the Commission:

Clay Evans, Southern California Aquatics (SCAQ), made comments that did not specifically pertain to the staff report and he was asked to save them for later in the meeting.

Marci Baun received clarification from staff regarding the number of adults allowed to swim the short course vs. the long course and scheduling.

Discussion ensued between staff and Commissioners regarding changing technology; adding clarification on how Splash is issued; industry standards for liability insurance; organization prioritization; differentiation between entities; the City vs. the School District; aquatic programs through the School District; balancing residents, adults and youth and other organizations that want to use the pool in addition to the City and the School District; terminology; classes vs. programs; new School District programs requiring additional space; priority; review of lane usage; communication; providing advance notice; the process for challenging lane assignments; City Attorney review of documents; concern with confusion created by trying to make one contract for different uses; clarity and transparency; existing agreements and contracts in place; balancing different contracts and agreements; individual contracts; establishing a universal format; a suggestion to number or letter the subsections; notification; specifying means of communication; clarification regarding normal cleaning after an event; elimination of ambiguity; clarification regarding normal wear and tear; condition of the space prior to the rental; adding language that the facility should be returned in the condition it was rented in; residency; defining Splash Scans; counting software; clarification on non-profit tax documentation; probation vs. suspension; youth programs; swim testing for party rentals; certification; general language for flexibility; safety concerns; adjustments to language for greater clarity; rental of the specific facility, not the surrounding areas; loitering; unaccompanied minors; supervision of organization members due to the absence of a responsible party on site; payment of fees to enter the facility during specific rental times; exhibitors; consistency throughout the document; typographical errors; glass products; cleanup; polystyrene; signage; insurance; liability; duplicate language regarding City Manager abilities; the long course/short course table; photography; acceptable methods of communication; changing technology; contact information; electronic contracts; the joint use agreement with the School District; the RLP packet; the rental questionnaire; online availability; and appreciation for the careful consideration of the information.

Chair Zeidman explained procedures for public speaking and invited public comment.

The following members of the audience addressed the Commission:

Clay Evans, Southern California Aquatics (SCAQ), indicated that what is before the Commission is not the document that they had considered; he expressed concern with the way preferences would be determined and whether children would take places that adults could be using; discussed meeting the needs of the community; effective use of space; the appeals process; adults having to wait for coaches to arrive to get started; restrictions on photography and video; and public space and the expectation of privacy.

Marci Baun provided background on herself; discussed lifelong swimming; lane capacity; lap swimmers; pacing; the noon swim; and she indicated that she did not like to have to drive to other cities to swim.

Habib Sissoko provided background on himself; felt that the guidelines were a good beginning; discussed previous issues; prioritization; using the pool in the appropriate way; resident usage; and he suggested that the guidelines be moved forward and improved over time.

Discussion ensued between staff and Commissioners regarding timing; legal review; residents who do not want to be photographed; authorization to photograph or record;

regular evaluation of lane usage; the appeals process; current guidelines; gray areas; negotiation; appreciation to Vice Chair Mohammed for his careful review of the contract; public access to the latest version of the document; hearing further comment from the public; availability of the Terms and Conditions; moving the guidelines forward; support for taking time to receive additional public comment; concern that there has not been the same type of public comment as previously received; agreed upon changes to better define Splash, eliminate the word scan and focus on electronical recording, and language adjustments to indicate Culver City Unified School District programs rather than classes; appreciation for the document, but concern with the lack of public comment; review and finalization of Terms and Conditions; and Commission consensus was achieved to hold the item until the next meeting for additional input before submitting the item for consideration by the City Council.
