Closed Session

Mayor Vera invited public comment.

The following members of the public addressed the City Council:

Disa Lindgren commented on Item CS-2; indicated support for the cause; discussed significant changes made; concerns with the environmental impact of rolling back MOVE Culver City; she expressed trust that the City Council would make sound decisions in Closed Session; and she thanked the City Council for caring about Culver City.

Melissa Sanders was called to speak but did not respond.

Pastor Osaze Griffin discussed statements made on September 6, 2023 indicating that owners have vested rights; the letter to the City Council on September 6, 2023 asserting that The Meadows owners do not have vested rights; review by renter activist groups of permits filed; he asserted that the lawsuit had been filed by bullies; did not want the City to side with Meadows owners; discussed the Rent Control Ordinance (RCO) put in place to protect renters; changing the dynamic by approving vested rights to protect Meadows owners; and he cautioned the City Council not to act out of fear of a negative outcome.

Daniel Young was called to speak but did not respond.

Disa Lindgren, Culver City Renters, provided background on herself and the organization; discussed the different experiences of landlords and tenants; the importance of not rolling back tenant protections; concern with fairness in expecting Meadows tenants to agree to what is being called a compromise that would not allow them to stay in their homes; she referenced a letter by Public Counsel that made a good case as to why the City should not cave to the landlord; and she urged the City Council to do the right thing and not to be fearful.

Patrick Meighan stood with Meadows residents and those on The Meadows Forward Action Committee in urging the City to enforce the City's tenant protections and RCO; noted that the law was clear that tenants should be allowed to return to their unit after renovation at the prior rent; asserted that the law did not become null if a corporate lawyer wrote a scary letter; discussed the offer being proposed; bullying; and he asked the City Council to refuse the sweetheart exemption from Culver City's RCO and tenant protection laws.

Jonathan Jager, Public Counsel, representing Meadows Forward Action Committee, discussed giving a voice to tenants; the letter sent by the firm; the inapplicability of the vested rights doctrine; Meadows permits; shortsightedness of granting an exemption that would put vulnerable residents in the City at risk; the well thought-out RCO; the need to serve as a regional model; promoting stability and certainty when it comes to people's most basic needs; concern with undermining stability and creating a culture where residents don't feel safe in the City; he implored the City Council to uphold the RCO as written; and he indicated being available to discuss the matter further with Council Members or City representatives.

Daniel Young stated that the owners of The Meadows were trying to use the Vested Rights Doctrine to circumvent the RCO and tenant protection laws; discussed well-researched evidence that their argument is not legally sound; evidence provided by the owners indicating that they neglected to maintain the property; he asked that the City enforce their laws and not cave to misguided demands of The Meadows owners and management; and he asked that Council Member Eriksson recuse himself from the discussion as he has received money from the owners and the management company.

MOVED BY COUNCIL MEMBER O'BRIEN, SECONDED BY VICE MAYOR MCMORRIN AND UNANIMOUSLY CARRIED, THAT THE CITY COUNCIL, CULVER CITY HOUSING AUTHORITY BOARD, CULVER CITY PARKING AUTHORITY, REDEVELOPMENT FINANCING AUTHORITY, AND SUCCESSOR AGENCY TO THE CULVER CITY REDEVELOPMENT AGENCY BOARD ADJOURN TO CLOSED SESSION.

At 5:43 p.m. the City Council, Culver City Housing Authority Board, Culver City Parking Authority, Redevelopment Financing Authority, and Successor Agency to the Culver City Redevelopment Agency Board adjourned to Closed Session to consider the following Closed Session Items:

CS-1 CC - Public Employee Performance Evaluation

Community Announcements by Members/Updates from Commission, Boards and/or Committees/Information Items from Staff

Council Member O'Brien discussed the recent community meetings to reimagine Veterans Park and Bill Botts Fields; additional opportunity for public input; the holiday season; and the lighting of the Menorah on The Steps.

Council Member Puza discussed Human Rights Day; the importance of celebrating the interconnectedness of life and dignity of humanity; noted full City Council attendance of the Tree Lighting Ceremony; he expressed best wishes to everyone for a Happy Holiday season and a peaceful New Year; and he thanked Council Members and staff for their efforts.

Council Member Eriksson thanked everyone for their work over the past year; expressed appreciation to the City Manager and staff for the new design of the Christmas Tree on Vets Tower; and he noted the blue color for the first day of Hanukkah and other color combinations used.

Vice Mayor McMorris echoed previous comments made in appreciation to the City Council and staff for their efforts over the past year; discussed World AIDS Day on December 1; she encouraged everyone to go to the community event at Westfield Mall hosted by Malik Books and the non-profit It's Bigger Than Us on December 17; reported attending the Menorah Lighting at the Ivy Station; and she expressed best wishes to everyone celebrating the holidays.

Mayor Vera echoed appreciation to Council Members and staff and he was pleased with the lighting of the Vets Tower.

Greg Maron, Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Committee (BPAC) Member, provided an update on the work of the Committee; discussed the staff recommendation in February to install two new stop signs on Elenda Avenue in front of the schools; the reversal of the decision after receipt of feedback at a community meeting; Committee consideration of the item; the importance of ensuring the safety of students travelling to school; costs and effectiveness of stop signs; stop signs that have been installed after the death of a pedestrian; and he asked the City Council to provide direction to staff that stop signs are the most important and best option.

Jane Leonard, Parks, Recreation and Community Services (PRCS) Commission Vice Chair, discussed the City's recent purchase of the Retting Gun Store; use of the land for PRCS activities; and she asked that the property be added to any planning activity for the PRCS Department.

Jason Sims, Culver City Police Department (CCPD) Chief, introduced new Police Explorers and provided background on the program.

Council Member O'Brien congratulated the Explorers; stated that the program was available for different professional groups in a range of vocations; and he indicated that anyone interested in sponsoring a program in any field could contact him for additional information.

Information Items

Item I-1

CC - Update on Homelessness Emergency Including Project Homekey, Safe Camping, and Other Housing Programs (This update is made pursuant to the requirements of Government Code Section 8630(c) requiring a periodic review of the Local Emergency)

Tevis Barnes, Housing and Human Services Director, introduced Dr. Daniel Richardson.

Dr. Daniel Richardson introduced the Culver City Mobile Crisis Team; provided background on the creation of the Team; discussed Team goals and intent; significant differences already being made by the team; referrals into interim housing programs; and he provided background on himself.

Mayor Vera and Vice Mayor McMorris expressed appreciation for the work of the Team.

Tevis Barnes, Housing and Human Services Director, presented a video on the Mobile Crisis Team Van which should be in use within a month.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding the process for requesting assistance; the designated crisis number; potential partnership with the 988 system and Didi Hirsch; changes to crisis response options; Culver City as being at the forefront of change; and finding new ways to respond.

Mayor Vera read a statement regarding Hate Speech.

Joint Public Comment - Items NOT On the Agenda

Mayor Vera invited public comment.

The following members of the public addressed the City Council:

Supervisor Holly J. Mitchell expressed support for creation of the Mobile Crisis Team; discussed partnerships with the county; ensuring that LA County Department of Mental Health stands by Culver City; the Anti-Racism, Diversity and Inclusion Initiative; the Culver City invitation to Dr. D'Artagnan Scorza to make a presentation; progressive forward-thinking policies brought forward by Culver City; the Mayoral Rotation; the leadership of Mayor Vera; appreciation for the purchase of the Martin B. Retting Gun Store; appreciation for Mayor Vera's attendance of the quarterly convening of the Mayors in the Second Supervisorial District; the importance of forming a regional response; the new Mayor to be seated; she indicated that the Board of Supervisors would be true partners; and she was looking forward to the continued support of the City Council as a whole.

Mayor Vera expressed appreciation for the leadership and friendship of Supervisor Holly Mitchell.

Stephen Jones, with one minute ceded by Jessica Harwood, asked that the City Council agendaize a discussion of eliminating pretextual stops by CCPD and to hold them accountable for breaking state law by issuing a new traffic stop policy without providing it to the public; discussed the Department of Justice (DOJ) report published indicating that CCPD had the most racist use of force record in the state; the state recommendation to eliminate pretextual stops; CCPD response to the state recommendation and calls from the community; reintroducing traffic stops for minor equipment violations; racial profiling; the violation of SB (Senate Bill) 978; the inability of CCPD to legally make policy in secret; standards of evidence; misconduct; ensuring that CCPD is not above the law; and he asked that the City Council take their sole oversight of CCPD seriously.

Pastor Osaze Griffin discussed work of Meadows residents to protect themselves against carve-outs from the RCO; the September 6, 2023 letter from Public Counsel; vested rights; upholding rights of residents; threats by bullies; adhering to anti-bullying policy; and he asked the City Council to review the letter and uphold the rights of residents and the RCO.

Jim Limbaugh, West Los Angeles College (WLAC), thanked Los Angeles county residents for voting in favor of Measure LA and discussed plans to build housing.

Mary Daval, Bike Culver City, provided background on the organization; wished everyone a peaceful and joyous holiday season; discussed Operation Firefly; the CCPD practice of ticketing riders without bike lights after dark; that fact that giving citations does not improve safety; whether the mission is to punish or to ensure public safety; and she suggested that CCPD provide lights rather than citations.

Isaiah Lytle Hernandez, with one minute ceded by Sebastian Hernandez, cited comments made by Council Members on October 9, 2023 about why the unhoused choose to remain homeless; asserted that no one chooses to remain homeless; discussed those who remain suspicious of government aid; someone he knows who has experienced difficulty; those who lack a caring family and support system; being at the mercy of a government that refuses to allocate resources to Housing and Human Services; regular people who are victims of circumstance; and the responsibility of privileged members of society to help others feel safe and in control again.

David Metzler was called to speak but did not respond.

Disa Lindgren expressed concern that CCPD had unilaterally decided to begin stopping drivers for minor equipment violations; discussed concern that the long legacy of systemic racism is not yet a thing of the past; the need to make sure that CCPD does not go back to pretextual traffic stops; concern that the change was not made in the public eye; the need for transparency on matters that affect the community; concern with CCPD taking the law into their own hands; Stop and Frisk policy;

harm to groups that are discriminated against; and she asked the City Council to address the matter.

Melissa Sanders encouraged everyone to read up on the Culver City Unified School District (CCUSD) measure on the March ballot; asserted that anyone involved in a lawsuit against the City should not be allowed to serve on a City Commission, Board, or Committee (CBC); discussed conflict of interest; the MOVE Culver City lawsuit; backroom dealings by Public Works in placing stop signs on Elenda at Garfield and Franklin; and assurances that the stop signs would not be installed.

Jeannine Wisnosky Stehlin, Cultural Affairs Commissioner, expressed appreciation to Onyx Jones for her service and thanked Christine Byers for her many years of service to the City noting her upcoming retirement.

Dr. Luther Henderson expressed hope that Council Members had read the book he had given them entitled Social Justice Fallacies by Dr. Thomas Sowell; discussed law enforcement improvements by CCPD; the Citizens Police Academy; assertions that CCPD is racist; and those who speak on behalf of other minority groups.

Bubba Fish discussed swift City Council action to agendize a discussion of the use of the data in response to neighbors who expressed concern with the rental registry created with publicly available data; revision of CCPD policy to reintroduce pretextual traffic stops without public input; the violation of SB 978; the need to agendize a discussion and investigation of the issue and how the change was made without public engagement; and the importance of ensuring that no one and no department is above the law and that people have a right to weigh in on decisions that impact them and the City.

Carolyn Libuser discussed the upcoming school bond measure that will affect every property owner in the City; concern with the rushed process with little input from the community or information on how the money would be spent; and she urged everyone to carefully consider the measure noting that 40% of students in the City are not residents.

Giavanni Washington was called to speak but did not respond.

Free Ivory Michaels was called to speak but did not respond.

Bryan Sanders discussed the need for community engagement and transparency when making changes to residential neighborhoods; Elenda Street; next steps outlined after the community meeting in 2023 to address concerns; lack of action; statements by staff indicating that stop signs would not be installed; and he wanted a process to engage residents and the community.

Michelle Weiner thanked the City Council for their previous decision to minimize contact by eliminating pretextual stops; indicated that she saw the difference immediately when the changes were implemented; she felt that the City Council needed to address the issue; expressed concern with a lack of transparency; she discussed a million dollar grant to address the stop signs previously turned down by the neighbors; stalling; and the importance of keeping the children who attend the schools safe.

Rebecca Rona Tuttle provided background on herself; discussed the 70th Anniversary of Temple Akiba; Hanukkah; hope for the well-being of everyone; the statement recently made by the City Council supporting Israel during the period of war; and she wanted to see a statement in support of peace.

Jeanne Black discussed statements made by Stephen Jones regarding changes to CCPD to return to their aggressive traffic stop policy of the past; traffic stops posted on the City website that give the impression that they are an effective crime deterrent; data indicating that Black drivers were the least likely to be given citations or taken into custody and most likely to be given a warning; the racist past of the City; excess police stops as sending the message that Black people should stay out; California DOJ RIPA (Racial and Identity Profiling Act) Report recommendations to limit officer discretion as to what can be characterized as a public safety stop; and she asked that the issue be agendaized for a future meeting.

James Richardson provided background on himself; reported that he was currently in interim housing; discussed work to bring peace and equity to the City; he asked for an update on Project Homekey; and, responding to Mayor Vera, he indicated that he would leave contact information with staff.

Karim Sahli discussed previous issues with CCPD; the new policy; statistics indicating that CCPD has much work to do to change from the racist past; and the importance of repealing the new policy.

Jason Sims, Police Chief, discussed implementation of the patrol directive in 2021 to move away from low-level equipment violations when making traffic stops; discussions as to whether to incorporate or codify the directive into the policy manual; policy drafts; feedback incorporated into the draft policy; the spirit of the policy; clarification that neither the directive nor the policy precluded officers from making stops for low-level equipment violations; directing officer time, attention, and focus; placing the focus on hazardous moving violations that have an impact on traffic safety; spending patrol time on having a positive impact on crime trends in the City; work with the City Council Subcommittee and the Chief's Advisory Panel; transparency; incorporation of the policy into the policy manual; and encouragement for those interested to get additional information and view policies at culvercitypd.org.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding hosting a community meeting in relation to the topic to allow for additional community engagement; upcoming community meetings; and creation of the Strategic Plan moving forward.
