Action Items

Item A-1

(1) Receive a Presentation on the MOVE Culver City - Downtown Circulator Update; and (2) Provide Direction to Staff

Ali Showkatian, Transit Operations Manager, provided background on himself and an update on the Downtown Circulator Pilot Program; discussed the first/last mile service; frequency; connections; challenges; steps being taken to improve services; and next steps.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding the window wrap; the importance of ensuring frequency; promotion of the shuttle; and allowing other transportation companies or companies in town with shuttles to use the lane.

Council Member Eriksson invited public comment.

The following members of the public addressed the Subcommittee:

Stephen Jones received clarification regarding monthly ridership numbers for the circulator; he felt that other shuttles wanting to use the mobility lane should pay to support it; discussed frequency; extending the pilot program; advertising; and he expressed appreciation for the service.

David Coles expressed support for the circulator; felt the numbers were better than he had understood them to be; proposed suggestions to encourage ridership; discussed the importance of placing a sign that says "free" on the shuttle so it is clear that the service is free to everyone; extending the route; feedback from drivers; providing service to the Fairfax Transit Hub; eliminating pass-through traffic; making choices out of convenience; and he felt that the bus lane was working to induce a mode shift.

Mary Daval wanted to ensure that any private drivers using the lane be trained by CC Bus on how to share the lane and to be respectful and safe; she discussed charging a fee for certification; and requiring payment for lane usage.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding clarification that the service is different than what public transportation is used to; managing headways; delivering consistent, reliable service; use of the public right of way; research on sharing with private entities; communication with Apple and Sony; certification; education; sharing space; facets to private use; practical issues; ridership; the fact that people are still not in the offices; anecdotal evidence; interested but fearful bike riders; people who wish the service would go further; and appreciation to staff for the report.

Item A-2

(1) Receive a Presentation on Assembly Bill 917 (AB917) Video Surveillance Enforcement Pilot Program; and (2) Provide Direction to Staff

Hector Calvinisti, Transportation Safety and Training Coordinator, provided a presentation on the AB917 Video Surveillance Enforcement Pilot Program; discussed automated enforcement; enhanced experience; creating a safer environment; data collected to provide an understanding of the scale of parking violations and efficiency of the program; required reporting; collaboration with the City Attorney's Office; evaluation of unsolicited proposals; Transit Lane Enforcement; integration of technology; the project plan; average number of daily violations; and bringing all the moving parts together to enhance customer experience and create a safer environment for everyone.

Council Member Eriksson invited public input.

The following member of the public addressed the Subcommittee:

Karim Sahli expressed support for the project; discussed the testing period; situations where Uber drivers park in the bike lane; and adding bollards in the Downtown area.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding the ability to collect data for bike lanes; enforcement; citations; research needed regarding adding bollards to the Downtown area; getting the data for bike lanes; demonstrating a need to the legislature; support for keeping the bus lane clear; people with mobility issues; and the importance of providing a drop off area.

o0o

Item A-3

(1) Receive a Presentation on the Citywide Transportation Demand Management Study Project Status Update; and (2) Provide Direction to Staff

Diana Chang, Transportation and Mobility Planning Manager, provided a status update on the Citywide Transportation Demand Management (TDM) Study.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding incorporating the TOD (Transportation Oriented Development) Visioning Study into the Transportation Demand Management (TDM) Study; the need to update policies; collaboration with Community Development and Public Works; creation of a City-wide policy; the General Plan Update; and the value of other TDM measures for Fox Hills which is a major job center.

Council Member Eriksson invited public input.

The following members of the public addressed the Subcommittee:

Stephen Jones received clarification that data from Bird is used in the management of the micro-mobility program in collaboration with the operators.

Karim Sahli received clarification that the study was meant to help the City create programs and implement policy changes to ensure a paradigm shift and address the current lack of a program with employers in the City; he discussed the TOD document provided; and he wanted the City to work with employers.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding the need for staff to learn from the experience of consultants and from other cities; ensuring that mistakes are not repeated; and cities that plan but do not execute.

o0o

Item A-4

(1) Receive a Presentation on the Culver City Employee Rideshare Program; and (2) Provide Direction to Staff

Ryan Hund, Transportation Management Analyst, provided a presentation on the Culver City Employee Rideshare Program.

Discussion ensued between staff and Subcommittee Members regarding value associated with parking; parking allowances for employees; providing benefits; creating a program to incentivize walking and biking; providing a parking cash out; program volume; fines paid for not meeting goals; and costs associated with driving a car as a potent deterrent.

Council Member Eriksson invited public comment.

No requests to speak were received.
