The following members of the public addressed the Committee:

Sophie Nenner discussed efforts by Metro over the last two years to get Bike Share at the Culver City Metro Station and she asked for help to make it available.

Discussion ensued between Ms. Carvajal, staff, and Committee Members regarding the many factors that come into play with siting at locations; actions of the private developer; loss of parking; empty parking spaces on the bottom floor; Bike Share on the public right of way; collaboration with Los Angeles Department of Transportation; guidance on where stations should be installed; siting as an equity issue; communication between Economic Development and the private developer who blocked the siting; and right of way underneath the elevated train.
