Action Items

Item A-1

CC - (1) Report on the Status of City-Owned Property Located at 10858 Culver Boulevard; and (2) Direction to the City Manager as Deemed Appropriate

Todd Tipton, Economic Development Manager, provided a summary of the material of record.

Mayor Sahli-Wells requested additional detail regarding choices laid out in the staff report.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding community outreach; interim use; design competition; grading; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) accessibility; the current state of the building; inspections; safety requirements; lack of maintenance; and code compliance.

Mayor Sahli-Wells invited public comment.

The following members of the audience addressed the City Council:

Justin Jampol, Wende Museum, reported speaking on behalf of community groups who have worked to create a proposal to activate the abandoned AmVets space and serve the vulnerable in society; he discussed equitable access to education and social services; a community based vision for a community center with programs available through a Community Advisory Council; formalization of a partnership with the Mayme Clayton Museum; honoring the legacy of the building; communication with Keith Jeffreys; funding; the Comprehensive Plan; the worsening homelessness crisis in Culver City; working toward a solution; providing additional social services and affordable housing; coordination with the Committee on Homelessness; modular housing; and programming.

Discussion ensued between Mr. Jampol and Council Members regarding the proposal workshopped with community members and openness to collaboration.

Donna Kent discussed white supremacy and white nationalism; hate crimes; racial progress; the white dominant population; the legacy of slavery and the civil war; divisions in America; the Mayme Clayton Museum; accessibility; and she urged the City Council to consider the offer of partnership between the Mayme Clayton Museum and the Wende Museum.

Keith Jeffreys, United States Veteran Artists Alliance (USVAA), discussed the history of the organization at the location; the condition of the building; the leaseholder; the Ghost Ship Disaster in Oakland; City assets; changes to Culver City; supporting and continuing the work started by The Wende Museum; and he indicated that USVAA wanted to be part of the conversation.

Karin Shaw expressed support for using the space as a community center; discussed her choice to live in Culver City; the area around the Vets Building; welcoming new neighbors;

she felt that adding a few units would not solve the growing issue of homelessness; and she expressed support for establishing a community center on the site.

Seth Horowitz, Culver Hotel, indicated that he and the Mallick Family supported the proposed collaboration with the Wende Museum;

Jim Limbaugh, West Los Angeles College (WLAC), expressed support for a creative community center; discussed the Creativity Studies Lab at WLAC; and he indicated willingness to collaborate.

Hope Parrish, Culver City Historical Society, expressed support for a creative community center as proposed by Justin Jampol; she discussed the Cultural Corridor; the Open Museum Day held last year; and displacement of the Mayme Clayton Museum.

Rebecca Rona-Tuttle discussed recent community meetings; she proposed a three-story building where homeless services can be provided; suggested relocating LA Goal to the 10858 Culver Boulevard space and taking over the old LA Goal space for homeless services; she discussed homeless veterans; and temporary use of Quonset huts for homeless services in the parking lot of the old courthouse until services are moved to the library.

Disa Lindgren thanked the Wende for their community engagement; encouraged the City to use the public land for affordable housing; she felt usage should include veterans due to previous utilization of the space; and she expressed support for incorporating the Mayme Clayton Museum.

Laura Stuart expressed support for the proposal put forth by Justin Jampol and for a government partnership that brings resources to the table; she discussed the need for services and a gathering space; and extensive use of Vets.

Andrew Leist expressed support for Justin Jampol and the Wende Museum and discussed previous programs and offerings by the Wende.

Heather Moses expressed support for the Wende Museum and for their proposal, and she discussed the many programs offered by the Wende Museum.

Judy Richter questioned whether staff had surveyed City owned properties in an effort to find something suitable for a larger solution.

Mark Lipman expressed support for a community center dedicated to the arts but noted the need to provide services for the homeless; he reported that the Committee on Homelessness voted that at least 50% of the space should be used to support the homeless; he applauded Justin Jampol and the Wende Museum for their work to bring the community together; keeping the space open to the entire community; and providing housing services to help the homeless.

Mayor Sahli-Wells discussed unofficial public engagement by the Wende Museum; the outside proposal; transparency; process; legality; and the need for a community conversation of a public show of the proposal with an opportunity for other organizations and the public to weigh in.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding the need for an open public meeting to solicit ideas; appreciation for the work done by the Wende Museum; transparency; the demolition process; preliminary studies necessary to move forward; cost estimates; preservation; public property; and collaboration with the Wende Museum.

Justin Jampol, The Wende Museum, discussed their construction assessment; history and significance of the A frame building; environmental and historical reasons to preserve the building; and he indicated that he could provide an assessment to the City.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding the need for housing at the site; relocation of the community gardens to the baseball field; relocation of the Boy Scouts and The Rock and Mineral Club; attracting private money; the need for a larger area for housing; concern with demolishing the building; effective use of the property; accommodating multi-use functions; the former ice rink; finding the best long-term solutions; concern with the lack of cooperation by the County Supervisor's Office in keeping the Mayme Clayton Museum at the current location; modular housing; affordable housing for artists; interim use while figuring out the ultimate use; expanding outreach to the veterans community; creating a hybrid use with a housing component; veterans dealing with housing issues; a planned meeting with Mayor Garcetti's Office of Housing Innovation; modular housing strategies; inclusion of veterans; moving forward with the environmental and historical analysis; outreach; scheduling; and input from the Historical Society, the Wende Museum and USVAA.
