

City	Initial Budget	Budget Reduction $	Budget Reduction %	Comments
Austin	$434M	$150M	34.6%	Reinvesting much of that sum in social programs, including food access, violence prevention and abortion access. Austin City Council unanimously voted to cut its police department budget by $150 million; cut police funding by about one-third of its total $434 million budget calls for immediately cutting around $21.5 million from the department
Los Angeles	$1.86B	$150M	8%	The L.A. City Council voted unanimously on Tuesday to replace police officers with a team of unarmed crisis response teams for nonviolent emergency calls. The nonviolent service providers would respond to calls related to mental health issues, neighbor disputes, substance abuse incidents, and other situations that law enforcement may not be best suited to handle. proposing a replacement for armed LAPD officers in enforcement of traffic violations. using L.A. Department of Transportation staff or automated technology to enforce traffic laws, including speeding, illegal turns, and other vehicle code violations.
New York	$ 6B	$ 1B	17%	reallocating $354 million to mental health, homelessness and education services. education includes nearly $484 million in cuts, $354 million in shifts to other agencies best positioned to carry out the duties that have previously been assigned to the NYPD, such as DOE, DOHMH and DHS, and $162 million in shifts of associated costs. The savings will go to critical programs and initiatives, including summer youth programming (($115 million), education ($116 million) and for family and social services ($134 million). In addition, $500 million in capital costs will be moved from the NYPD capital budget which allows investment in other badly needed infrastructure. Remove NYPD from homeless outreach and crossing guards
Seattle	$400m	$ 3.5m	<1%	Initial $3.5 million budget cut and the reinvestment of over $17 million; eliminate approx 100 police officer positions, remove PD from services related to homelessness, wage reductions. intends to create a new Department of Public Safety and transfer the city's 911 dispatch, emergency management, harbor patrol and parking enforcement units out of the Police Department.
Portland	$245m	$16m	6.5%	$5 million of that would be put toward a new program that sends unarmed first responders to answer homelessness calls. Eliminating 84 positions. discontinue the presence of armed officers from local schools and reallocate the $1 million designated for these officers into the community.
Santa Monica				Black Agenda: $100k and $25k from Council to fund nonprofit organization to promote the wellbeing of Black people who live, work, and visit the Santa Monica community. Equity: Form a Racial Equity Committee and appt existing staff as Equity and Inclusion Officers for every dept, Adopt REAP. Public Safety Reform: Establish police commission, revise UOF policy, develop regular PD training to be made public, develop alternate dispatch approaches, explore mobile crisis intervention (CAHOOTS model)
San Francisco		$ 120m		$60M Budget cut to the San Francisco police and sheriff's departments over the next two years.prioritizing investments in the African American community around housing, mental health and wellness, workforce development, economic justice, education, advocacy and accountability
Baltimore	$550m	$22m	4%	$13m in grant funding, $9m general fund
Philadelphia		$33m		Investing in affordable housing, arts funding and social services that address poverty
Culver City	$47.6m	$3m	6.4%	The budget reductions include the following: Nine (9) Unfunded Positions, Eliminated Programs (Police Explorer, Reserve, VIP), Terminated External Service Contracts, Reductions in Equipment Maintenance, Amortization of Equipment, etc