Action Items

Item A-1

CC - (1) Appointment of a Member to the LAX Area Advisory Committee (LAXAAC); (2) Direction to the City Clerk Related to Two Vacancies on the Disability Advisory Committee (DAC); and (3) Discussion and Direction to the City Clerk Related to Eligibility Requirements and Future Vacancies of, and One Current Vacancy on, the General Plan Advisory Committee (GPAC)

Jeremy Green, City Clerk, discussed the erroneous appointment to the LAX Advisory Committee made in June during the annual process and indicated that an applicant was present to speak.

Mayor Eriksson invited public comment.

The following member of the public addressed the City Council:

Taria Lewis provided background on herself; discussed her motivation for serving; the need for increased communication; impacts of the airport on the community; interface between the City and the airport; and ensuring that Culver City has a voice in upcoming changes.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding support for the incumbent due to the learning curve involved in the process; support for improving communication; and the late application from Mr. Wahlert.

Additional discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding resignation of two Disability Advisory Committee (DAC) Members; outreach; options; the process; applicants for the DAC; simplifying the process; whether a full Committee is necessary in order to complete the work; and support for the two applicants.

Ashley Hefner, Current Planning Manager, discussed General Plan Advisory Committee (GPAC) vacancies; City policies; residency requirements; the Municipal Code; eligibility requirement; GPAC Bylaws; the current member moving out of the City but interested in continuing to serve; and past members who were not residents.

Further discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding a recent resignation by a Member who was not a resident but was selected due to being a non-profit leader in the community; expertise of the member requesting to stay despite moving out of the City; work with mental health advocacy groups in the City; consideration of a recommendation from the outgoing member; allowing Council Member Lee to replace the appointment; support for allowing the current member moving out of the City to continue to serve; the feeling that non-residents with a strong connection to the City should not be disqualified; Culver City business owners who do not live in town; guidance regarding future appointments; and support for allowing the new Council Members to decide.

MOVED BY VICE MAYOR FISCH, SECONDED BY COUNCIL MEMBER SMALL AND UNANIMOUSLY CARRIED, THAT THE CITY COUNCIL: APPOINT JOHN WAHLERT TO THE LAX AREA ADVISORY COMMITTEE (LAXAAC) FOR A TERM FROM JANUARY-DECEMBER 2021.

Item A-3

CC - (1) Adoption of an Ordinance Amending Chapter 15.09, Rental Housing, of the Culver City Municipal Code to Add a New Subchapter 15.09.200, et seq., Rent Control; (2) Adoption of an Ordinance Amending Chapter 15.09, Rental Housing, of the Culver City Municipal Code to Add a New Subchapter 15.09.300, et seq., Tenant Protections; (3) Consideration of City's Role, if any, in Ellis Act Procedures for Removal of Rental Units from Rental Housing Use; and (4) Direction to the City Manager as Deemed Appropriate

Jesse Mays, Assistant City Manager, provided a summary of the material of record.

Mayor Eriksson invited public comment.

The following members of the public addressed the City Council:

Mark Salkin provided background on himself; expressed disappointment in the City Council for their actions to implement rent control; discussed people who are not rent burdened; landlords who live on retirement checks; maintenance; COVID; expensive units that have no control on them; the consultants; state rent control; he felt that the City Council had looked at the issue too narrowly and their actions would come back to haunt them; and he felt that money was being taken from landlords and given to others.

Erik Alexander spoke representing The Meadows noting that the rent control ordinance would subsidize rental units for all rentals regardless of income or need; he asserted that standards would suffer as owners scramble to cut costs; discussed money spent by the City to administer the program; shifting cost burdens; equity; risks to owners; fairness; the renovation taking place at The Meadows; actions taken based on an established set of rules; he asserted that the scope of work would not be able to be completed with rent control; discussed pass through provisions; length of time to capture money spent on planned improvements; maintenance; and he asked the City Council not to approve the ordinance and instead to work with landlords toward an equitable and progressive solution.

Meg Sullivan discussed costs to run the rent control program; responsible housing providers; and she asked the City Council to rethink the ordinance and use a progressive approach to actually help people in need.

Kelli Estes discussed omission of the cost estimate; accessibility of information; economics; reasonable return on investment; equity; removal of an incentive to offer affordable housing; paying the market rate if eviction is necessary; tenants over family; concern with taking input from UCLA professors; she asserted that the action would be overturned in court; and she urged everyone to vote Yes on Measure B.

Dennis Page asserted that the million dollar program would put landlords out of business; discussed the number of people helped vs. the number of people hurt; the state program; time and money spent on the program; encouragement toward homeownership; permanent renting; the Ellis Act; he asked that the voters be allowed to decide; and he encouraged everyone to vote Yes on Measure B.

Adham Refaat thanked the City Council for their hard work; compared the City Council to the current administration, asserting that they were trying to sneak something in at the last moment; felt that rent control was not the right cure for the problem; felt that the action was not progressive; discussed discrimination; division between landlords and tenants; resentment; he asked that the City Council listen to the data indicating that rent control did not work; and he asked the City Council not to enact rent control.

Johanna Gullick provided background on herself; expressed support for tenant rights; discussed rent stabilization; state law; flaws in the ordinance as written; costs of the program; Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA); redevelopment agencies; affordable housing; utilities; the Los Angeles Rent Stabilization Ordinance; proposed a review of the program after one year; and she thanked the City Council for their hard work.

Keith Jones provided background on himself; discussed costs of the program; businesses in the downtown area not paying their fees; landlords who are not receiving rent during the pandemic; elimination of low income and affordable housing; tenants who make six figures, drive expensive cars and are getting a break on rent; and punishing those who have kept their rents low.

Kevin Lachoff expressed disappointment that the Rental Assistance Program (RAP) had not been revitalized and utilized; discussed funding for the RAP; concern with creating ill-will between landlords and tenants; the recommendation for the equity program; creating equity with income qualified rental assistance; the state program; providing flexibility for landlords to maintain their properties; and he asserted that the City Council had created undue burden.

Kyle Nelson applauded the City Council for standing up for tenants' rights, and he acknowledged more work to be done.

Yasmine-Imani McMorris provided background on herself; thanked the City Council for supporting renters and showing political courage and will to support vulnerable community members; discussed use of the word equity without an adequate power analysis; concessions made; acknowledged that the ordinance would not solve all issues; noted the need to produce housing and preserve community; and the importance of keeping people in their homes.

Discussion ensued between staff and Council Members regarding rent control in relation to Section 8; establishing fair market rate for relocation assistance; Housing and Urban Development (HUD) payment standards; the BAE study; the vesting period; the Anti-Harassment and Retaliatory Eviction Provisions; landlords who provide utilities; establishing a review period; City Council ability to make future changes to the ordinance in response to input and experience; clarification that a Rent Board had not been considered; program costs; the appeals process; financial hardship; lack of vilification of landlords and incorporation of "Mom and Pop" landlords into the process; lack of successful petitions for financial hardship during the interim period and the potential for increased and successful applications in the future; concern with turning the issue into a partisan one; incorporating opinions of landlords, renters and homeowners into the process; the history of Culver City as an island without rent control surrounded by rent control; doomsday financial predictions; support for expanding rental assistance in the COVID context; the impact of rent control vs. the Rental Assistance Program; clarification that rent control is an anti-displacement program being pursued in concert with other programs and policy objectives; racial equity; relegation of people of color to the rental market; concern with pitting people against one another; the feeling that rent control is long overdue, but not a solution to curing racial inequities; public input; those afraid to speak up for fear of being put in harm's way financially; reasons for implementing rent control; other cities looking at rent control; the state provision; recognition of differences in rental markets and the allowance for stronger rent control provisions; negative consequences for renters who spoke up in 2015; changes for landlords; the City as an outlier before rent control was begun; encouraging compliance with a streamlined process; providing stability and predictability; changes made as a result of conversations with stakeholders; local data; outreach; the comprehensive process; the Tenant Protection Ordinance; relocation during the unprecedented time and shortage of housing; acknowledgement that no single strategy would address the housing crisis; additional consideration; the potential for repeal; the upcoming election; the process; concern with the ultimate negative effect on affordable units in the City; comments made by smaller landlords; putting the money from rent control toward all the applicants to the Emergency Rental Assistance Program; and agreement to wait for the next City Council to discuss the Ellis Act.

MOVED BY COUNCIL MEMBER SAHLI-WELLS AND SECONDED BY COUNCIL MEMBER SMALL THAT THE CITY COUNCIL: ADOPT AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 15.09, RENTAL HOUSING, OF THE CULVER CITY MUNICIPAL CODE TO ADD A NEW SUBCHAPTER 15.09.200, ET SEQ., RENT CONTROL.

THE MOTION CARRIED BY THE FOLLOWING VOTE:

AYES: FISCH, LEE, SAHLI-WELLS, SMALL
