BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

As part of its economic recovery planning, the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation

Authority (LA Metro) initiated an exploratory task force to develop a proposal to eliminate fares for all riders on LA Metro buses and trains. The effort is being called the Fareless System Initiative (FSI or Operation FSI).

Realizing that this initiative would significantly impact all LA County riders of Metro and the other municipal transit agencies operating in the region, the LA County Municipal Operator's Association (LACMOA) requested that the study also consider the entire LA County region and created a FSI Ad-hoc committee. As a result, Culver City Chief Transportation Officer, Rolando Cruz, has been appointed to this committee to ensure that Culver CityBus interests are considered. Culver CityBus is working towards the participation in a pilot program and, if possible, a county-wide implementation of the FSI program.

LA Metro board has been actively involved in steering the work of the FSI Taskforce, which is composed of Metro Staff. At the March 25th meeting, Motion 43.1 directing the Taskforce to engage with municipal operators. Metro representatives have begun weekly update meetings, provided cost and revenue estimation data, and has sent a survey to gather information around regional impacts from the FSI Pilot Program. It is expected decision on the implementation of a pilot program will be made at the May 27 meeting date.

Staff will be presenting an update to the Mobility, Traffic and Parking Subcommittee on steps taken to prepare for such a program and the cost impact to Culver CityBus service. Staff is seeking guidance on next steps and ways to engage the City Council in this key decision.
